PREFACE

The purpose of this publication is to provide doctrinal guidance for the employment of the medical company, air ambulance (AA). (In this publication, the medical company, AA will be referred to as the AA company.) In addition, this publication describes the tactics needed for implementation of its combat service support (CSS) role on the modern battlefield. This publication also provides the doctrinal requisites to support the Army’s Concept Based Requirements System processes for determining the Army Medical Department’s (AMEDD’s) aviation requirements.

This publication is primarily intended for the medical company, AA commander, his section leaders, and assigned personnel. Further, the medical command (MEDCOM), medical brigade, and medical evacuation (MEDEVAC) battalion commanders and their staffs will use this publication in planning combat health support (CHS). This publication is also applicable for use by the Army aviation community, to include members of the allied, coalition, and special operations forces, or contingency force operations that require AMEDD aviation support.

This publication embodies doctrine based on the L-edition Table of Organization and Equipment (TOE) 08447L200. The staffing and organizational structure presented in this publication reflects those established in the L-edition TOE, effective as of this publication date. However, such staffing is subject to change to comply with Manpower Requirements Criteria outlined in Army Regulation (AR) 71-32 and can be subsequently modified by your modification TOE (MTOE).
